EXPLORING ARCHAEOLOGY IN TEXAS

A variety of Texas-based societies and agencies offer local field trips, tours, lectures, festivals, educational resources, and other public archaeology events or activities. Find more resources at the Archaeology Education Clearinghouse website: www.archaeologyeducationclearinghouse.wordpress.com.

GET INVOLVED

Texas Archaeology Month: www.thc.texas.gov/tam
Shumla Archaeological Research & Education Center: shumla.org

ORGANIZATIONS

Texas Historical Commission: www.thc.texas.gov
Texas Archaeological Society: www.txarch.org
Community Historical Archaeology Project with Schools (CHAPS): www.utrgv.edu/chaps
Texas Department of Transportation: www.txdot.gov/inside-txdot/division/environmental/archaeology-history.html
Southern Texas Archaeological Association: www.staa.org
Texas Beyond History: www.texasbeyondhistory.net
The Archaeological Institute of America: www.archaeological.org
AIA has five Texas societies, located in Houston, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Central Texas (Austin), Southwest Texas (San Antonio), and Lubbock.

PLACES TO VISIT

El Paso Museum of Archaeology: archaeology.elpasotexas.gov
Bullock Texas State History Museum: www.thestoryoftexas.com
Institute of Texan Cultures: www.texancultures.com
The Witte Museum: www.wittemuseum.org
San Antonio Missions National Historical Park: www.nps.gov/saan
Palo Alto Battlefield National Historical Park: www.nps.gov/paal
Texas Parks & Wildlife: tpwd.texas.gov/state-parks/parks/things-to-do/history-in-state-parks

Texas Archaeology Month is in October. Find opportunities to celebrate archaeology near you!

Prepared by the Archaeology Education Clearinghouse
Booth #635

Sponsored by the Society for American Archaeology, the Society for Historical Archaeology, and the Texas Historical Commission

National Council for the Social Studies Conference
Austin, Texas
November 22-24, 2019